MARIETTA, Ohio (AP)—Problem: How to move 120,000 books and hundreds of magazines from an old library into a new one. Marietta College faced up to it with all the intellectual ingenuity expected of an institution of higher learning.

The answer arrived at by librarian Richard K. Gardner was surprisingly simple.

Organize the school's 1,500 students and faculty members into a giant book brigade, he said, one that could tote the 120,000 books from the old library across a street into the new $965,000 Daves Memorial Library.

So that's just what will happen Nov. 15.

Each boy and girl will be limited to carrying a stack of books about 12 inches high, Gardner said, adding: "If the majority of the students turn out, each person will have to make only about 11 trips."

All who work on the project will be compensated—a free lunch on the college.

Chapter XXXIII

"But how about at night? Last Monday night, to be exact. After the flight for Rabat took off? Did you see him that night?"

"There was no earthly reason to see him," Don Julio said, with a touch of exasperation in his voice.

"Have you checked to find out if he took his plane up that night?"

Don Julio sighed patiently. "The airport is closed at night. There are no clerks, no flight records."

"It's not closed, it's the unattended," Beecher suddenly pounced a fist into his palm. "He took off after the Rabat flight had gone, and the airport was deserted. He met Bruno in the desert and they lie and Bruno came back here early Monday morning, mission accomplished. Where is Bruno?"

"I believe he is in Barcelona. I heard he had flown there a day or so ago."

"Take me to Don Willie. I'll sign any charges or accusations you want. But he'll collapse at the sight of me. He thinks I'm dead."

Don Julio looked patiently at the ceiling. "And a moment ago you thought he was dead. It's very nice, isn't it? An orderly little turnabout."

Beecher tried desperately to make his thoughts run in a clean, straight line. Until this instant, he had accepted Laura's story that Don Willie had died in the truck crash. And now he remembered Lynch's dying words: "She likes to lie. Not just out of necessity. Gives her an advantage."

Laura and Lynch had been in the truck at the time of the crash. And this meant that Don Willie and Bruno were already winging their way back to Mirimar. Don Willie wouldn't be content to hope they would meet with some fatal accident; his ponderous sense of fitness and propriety would be outraged at the notion of leaving any detail to chance. No. The success of the plan depended on bold and total carnage; there would be only two survivors. Don Willie and Bruno.

A dark-haired maid opened the wide, carved door of the Black Dove, and Don Julio told her they wished to speak with Senor Willie. She nodded, with a suggestion of nervous formality, and showed them into the living room.

A door closed in the back of the house, and heavy footsteps sounded in the hallway leading into the living room.

Beecher felt as if a cold weight had suddenly settled in his stomach. He wet his lips and turned to face the doorway.

Don Willie snapped on the overhead lights as he strode into the room. He wore a blue flannel smoking jacket over baggy slacks and a sports shirt, and he seemed both sleepy and irritable his little eyes were blinking in his flushed round face.

Then an astonished and incredulous smile spread over Don Willie's plump features. "Mike," he cried happily. "How is this miracle? Everyone has been so sad for you, and all the other poor people on the plane. The ship didn't crash?"

Beecher tried to keep his straining nerves under control; Don Willie's composure was staggering, and Beecher felt as if the earth had suddenly shifted beneath his feet. "You know what happened to the others," he said slowly.

Don Willie peered closer at Beecher. "I know nothing, Mike. Except I am glad you are not dead in the plane crash. You must

'Look Back' Theme Taken by TV Shows

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — "Television as been turning out so many nostalgic shows — looking backward by means of old newspaper headlines, bits from old movies and newsreels and once-popular songs—it should have a stiff neck. Two more hit the TV tubes over the weekend.

CBS' "Golden Anniversary" musical special Friday night was the more ambitious; it was looking over the past 50 years.

Sunday night's NBC "Music of the 30s" concentrated on the depression years, that familiar TV area including the speakeasy door, the apple-seller, the girl singer perched on the piano, the stock market graph, and, of course, the voice of the late FDR.

The anniversary show was bright entertainment, with some funny and clever song numbers and some inspired moments of clowning by Narette Fabray and Tony Randall.

Sunday night's memoir of the 1930s dragged during overlong musical numbers, but it had some tell me about the others. I know nothing."

"You murdered them," Beecher said. "Has that slipped your mind?"

"Slipped my mind? What does that mean? You are talking so strange to me, Mike." He looked inquiringly at Don Julio.

"Please," Don Julio raised his hand like a traffic policeman halting traffic. "The charges are as follows: that you forced Mr. Beecher aboard the Iberia aircraft which disappeared last week on its scheduled flight to Rabat; that you ordered the execution of its regular pilots; that, through an accomplice, you made him fly the plane into the desert south of Morocco, and that there, in the Sahara, attempted to kill him." Don Julio inclined his head a formal inch. "There are specifications to these charges which I will outline later if it seems necessary or fruitful. Do you have any comments to make at this time?"

Don Willie's features had turned from red to crimson to purple as the policeman had been speaking, and now he puffed his cheeks out like an infuriated gobbler and pointed angrily to the front door. "I make a comment, yes, of course," he said, in a voice trembling shrilly with emotion. "I tell him to get out of my house. What is this foolishness about the desert and killing people? I think he is crazy."

IRS Speeds Electronic Processing

By FRANK CORMIER

MARTINSBURG, W.Va. (AP)—The Internal Revenue Service announced today a two-year speedup in its program to process all tax returns automatically at an electronic computer center in this Shenandoah Valley city.

Internal Revenue Commissioner Mortimer M. Caplin said IRS expects to complete the conversion of computer operations by 1966. The agency had been thinking earlier in terms of 1968 or possibly 1969.

The speedup announcement was made in a speech Caplin prepared for the dedication of a $750,000 national computer center here. This brick structure eventually will house a master file on 80 million individual and corporate taxpayers. The file will cover 400 miles of magnetic tape to be stored in a single room about 30 by 40 feet.

As part of the shift to electronic tax processing, every taxpayer will be given an identity number so individual accounts won't get mixed up. For 85 per cent of all taxpayers, this will be their Social Security number. All others will be assigned numbers similar to those used in the Social Security program.

"The government is counting on the computers to help detect tax cheats, who are estimated to evade about $5 billion in taxes each year. The computers will cross-check the figures on every tax return against reported payments to taxpayers in the form of wages, dividends and interest. This task must now be done by hand, so only spot checks are possible.

Except for the assignment of identity numbers, the new system will not directly affect individual taxpayers. Returns still will be a fox—is the first prime-time cartoon series to bite the dust, none of them except "The Flintstones" processed under this new system by 1966."

School Head Quits After Vandalism

ROGERS, Ark. (AP)—Howard Sutton, principal of Rogers High School, said he plans to resign after vandals attacked his home last week while he was attending the Arkansas Education Association Meeting in Little Rock.

The 33-year-old Sutton said he had been subjected to other incidents during the six years he has been principal. "But I'm afraid this bit of vandalism was just about the last straw," he said.

He said the front of his house was covered with smashed rotten eggs, the front screen door was slashed and there was a bullet hole in the kitchen window.

Sutton said he is looking for another job and intends to transfer at the end of the current school year.

He attributed the attacks to a wave of vandalism. "I guess it was just my turn," Sutton said.

He said he didn't know of any other reason.

At Martinsburg, incoming tapes will be run against the master file, to see whether everything is in order. The computers also will figure out refunds and obvious underpayments. In addition, they will automatically flag those returns which seem suspicious and these will be returned to district offices for checking.

Caplin said plans for regional centers "are substantially ahead of our original timetable." He said that "at the rate we are now proceeding, every taxpayer in the United States will have his returns processed under this new system by 1966."

Telegram Brings Her Stark Truth

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen: My boss told me to write you. I am a stranger in a strange land who doesn't want to live any longer. Yesterday I turned on the gas in the kitchen stove and hoped to die—all for love of a man. A neighbor saved my life, though I begged her not to.

Until last week, when my man's "mother" and a boy were here, I was a happy woman. The son, by a former marriage, I knew about, but the mother, I understood, had died. When I pressed for an explanation, he evaded me. Monday, I found the answer in a telegram he forgot to take from the pocket of a suit he wanted sent to the cleaner. I knew it was wrong to read the message but something impelled me to. In substance, it said, "We sure miss you. Last week's reunion wonderful. Find that house so we can be together again. Your loving wife and son."

The "mother" who came with the boy was the wife of my man! He says he is going to leave me, I cannot live without him. We met when I arrived from Holland four years ago. He has been all my life ever since. I beg you, help me! —J.

Dear J.: This Svengali is committing mental murder by destroying your will to live. See him for what he is, a white-livered bounder. You're caught in the web of sex, not love. Break away before it is too late, tell yourself I am going to live, not die. It is not trouble but what trouble does to you that matters. Seize this as an opportunity to strengthen your will, develop your character and express your real self. Life is glorious and not to make the most of every moment is a real sin.

Dear Helen: Our 18-year-old son thinks we should let him go day and night. We think his place is at home with us. Our 17-year-old daughter is equally difficult. She complains because we won't let her go on dates, unless to well-chaperoned parties. Recently we banned telephone calls from boys, hoping to discourage her and them. This, she bitterly resents, saying we are being very unfair because all girls her age date. It's mighty hard, after doing all you can for your kids, to see them turn on us, as ours have. We need your advice badly. — Trying To Do Right.

Dear Trying: Cheer up! Most parents of teen-agers are confronted with the same problem. Having invested love and money in your two you naturally want to protect them, but don't carry the supervision too far. To ban all social activity is asking for trouble. They'll date secretly and, as a consequence, you will have no control over the company they keep. The friends they make now are important to their present and future happiness.

See that your son and daughter meet youngsters worth keeping as friends. Let them date—at home. Set aside definite evenings for record hops, candy-making or games. Always have some older person or couple present. Occasionally, you could relieve the strain by inviting other parents in for cards.

I realize that most present day homes are limited in space but, if the children help shift furniture, space can be found. Your

Man Needs 3 or 4 Dry Days, Month

CHICAGO (AP) — Drinkers should go on the wagon three or four days a month to keep from becoming alcoholics, says a self-abstaining expert on alcoholism. The expert, Archer Tongue, executive director of the International Bureau Against Alcoholism, Lausanne, Switzerland, says he drinks beer or wine with meals and sometimes has a drink on other occasions. But he told newsmen Tuesday: "A person should abstain completely for three or four days each month, just to make sure he doesn't become dependent upon alcohol. I do this."

son by reason of his age and the fact that he's a boy, merits more freedom than your daughter. However, so long as he's dependent upon you and your husband for a living, he should conform to your wishes. Allow him one evening out with his friends but make sure he tells you where they're going and what they are doing. Win his confidence by assuming he is mature enough to distinguish right from wrong.

Liston No. 1 Opponent for Patterson

CHICAGO (AP) — "That's good, that's good, now I won't have to knock off that Britisher to get to that title"

This was Sonny Liston talking today after the National Boxing Association Tuesday restored him as No. 1 challenger for Floyd Patterson's heavyweight title in its month ratings.

In its previous ratings, the NBA had listed England's Henry Cooper as the ranking contender for Patterson's crown, ignoring Liston because of his most recent brush with the law. "Maybe I don't have to fight that Cooper now to show who's who," grinned Sonny, who doesn't grin easily.

Liston, 28, has spent most of his bizarre career winning fights in the ring, losing scrapes outside the ring and never quite catching up with Patterson.

At the moment, he may be on the glory trail. He now goes to his "rehabilitation center" — the train for his Dec. 4 bout with Germany's Albert Westphal, a master baker from Hamburg. The Philadelphia bout will be part of a fistie Vdo Tumbleheader, also including Patterson's title defense against Tom McNeely in Toronto. Lister also noted that Albert Westphal tender by Ring magazine, not only has put himself in the hands of a new manager, George Katz, but also those of a Denver priest, Rve. Edward Murphy.

"I'm glad of a new chance and I hope to make the best of it."

"I think I've found a true friend in Father Murphy — and that makes a lot of difference after all the trouble I've been in," said Liston who was in Chicago for a Monday night exhibition with Chicago's Ernest Terrell.

Liston hasn't fought a regular bout since last March when he kayoed Howard King in Florida. Meanwhile, he had to unburden himself of connections which brought him before a congressional committee and also straightened out once more after a brush with the law.

Minnesotans Hall Lineman of the Week

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—"I do know what to say. I'm very grateful to everyone for helping me get such an honor."

That was end Tom Hall's reaction today after being named Associated Press Lineman of the Year.

"It sure feels good," Hall continued in his soft-spoken manner. "Give the credit to Butch Nantz, though. He's the one who

Hall, tabbed by Minnesota coaches as one of the most underrated players in the Big Ten, was very instrumental in

He snared two passes in the Gophers' first touchdown drive, grabbed another as the Gophers penetrated Spartan territory in the fourth period and then powered on a fumble after that.

Despite Hall's outstanding work on offense, it was his play on defense which contributed greatly to the Minnesota cause. He constantly in the opposing back-in the first three quarters, coasted against Chicago.

Blind Girl Marches in School Band

Las Vegas Is Target for U. S. Probe

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The girl marches briskly with the band U.S. Justice Department has down the football field, guided by picked Las Vegas as the launch- bells and the ringing courage ing site for a new drive against of her heart.

The blazing floodlights never bring squints to Leah Russell's blue eyes; the floodlights are black to her. "I have only one terrible fear," said Leah, 16, blind since birth. "I'm scared that sometime I may not hear the sound of the bell-players and I'll go marching off by myself—all alone, in the wrong direction. I would be so ashamed."

Almost three years ago Leah began studying the piccolo, painstakingly putting the music into Braille. Last year her Southwest Miami High band director, Marvin Mockabee, welcomed her into his 64-member unit.

"As a sitting member only," said Mockabee, "she practiced with us, played in concerts, but I was afraid to try her out as a marcher."

But Leah felt lonely sitting out the football game marches and finally pleaded to be taught to march. It was trying and often frightening for Leah.

"But her patience and determination almost brought tears to our eyes," Mockabee said. The "left flank" and "right flank" movements gave Leah trouble. Then Mockabee hit upon the bell-player guides.

As the band struts down the field two husky bell-players pound their big shiny instruments with Leah marching between them.

With the radar-like hearing of the blind, Leah maintains a straight line of march—the sound of the bells measuring distance for her.

When the bells stop momentarily, you can see her hesitate, the dark.

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—The chairman of the State Gambling Control Board, Ed Olsen of Reno, immediately promised to support the drive. But he said the Washington announcement of the investigation sounded "just a little bit sensational."

Justice Department officials in Washington announced Sunday that they had ordered a systematic investigation to determine: (1) The extent to which syndicated crime leaders are using Las Vegas as a meeting place; (2) Whether a race track wire service is being run here for bookmakers throughout the country; (3) The backgrounds of some gambling casino operators.

Olsen said the attorney general has been interested in Nevada for some time "and we've been working in close cooperation with Mr. Kennedy."

"The state is just as interested in uprooting racketeers—if any are here—as he is," Olsen said. Olsen said his agents—more than 50, of them—"Keep track of national underworld figures that come to Las Vegas."

"If meetings of any significance (involving crime leaders) occur," Olsen said, "we'll be there."

Working alone in her world of darkness, Leah earns a near-straight A average. She does her homework in Braille.

Someday, she said, "I will become a teacher and perhaps help other boys and girls to march in the dark."

Sentenced for Shooting Negro

WALNUT RIDGE, Ark. (AP)—Velpo Bell, 70, of Walnut Ridge, was sentenced to six years in prison Monday after being convicted of voluntary manslaughter in the fatal shooting of Alonzo Williams, 61, Negro, last June 23. Bell pleaded self defense.

curred in Nevada, we'd likely know about them."

Las Vegas has long been under scrutiny of federal agents. But until Congress recently passed legislation directed at syndicates, a Justice Department official said, these agents could do little more than look for hoodlum interests in Las Vegas enterprises and investigate possible income tax violations. The new laws, among other things, prevent racketeers from crossing state lines in pursuit of unlawful activities.

U. S. Tries to Head Off UN China Vote

By TOM HOGE

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The United States worked behind the scenes at the United Nations today, seeking support for findings from the blood pressure must act soon on the controversial Chinese seating issue placed on its agenda for the first time since the Communists took over the mainland in 1949.

Doubtful it had the votes to put across its usual proposal to shelve debate on China for another year, the United States voted this fall for a full airing of the seating question. Now U. S. diplomats are sounding out delegates, seeking support for another type of postponement proposal: creation of a special committee to study the China question and report back to the assembly next year.

The United States has made it plain it still opposes any move to oust the Nationalist Chinese and seat the Reds in their place. It has served notice it will fight the Soviet proposal that the assembly recognize the Peiping government as the lawful holder of the Chinese seat.

Western diplomats expressed confidence the United States has the voting support to dump the Chinese question into the lap of a committee even though the Communists and many Asian and African delegates will fight it as another attempt to shelve the issue.

Western observers also feel that with the widening breach between Peiping and Moscow, evidenced at the recent Soviet Communist party congress, the Soviets actually have little if any desire to see Red China admitted to the U. N.

The Russians are said to fear that Red China might try to move in as chief spokesman for the Communist bloc. Monday the assembly by a vote of 71-20 adopted a proposal by India and five nonaligned nations urging voluntary moratorium on nuclear weapon tests. It was rejected by all the nuclear powers—the United States, Britain, France and the Soviet Union.

Eisenhower Takes Medical Checkup

WASHINGTON (AP)—Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower underwent routine medical checks today after an overnight stay in Walter Reed Army Hospital, then set out for his Pennsylvania farm home.

There was no announcement of findings from the blood pressure, chest and other related tests which the president takes periodically.

The former president checked into the hospital Monday night. Both Eisenhower and his wife left the hospital only last month.

Minute Men to Back Up Defense

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The leader of a group known as Minute Men, intended for civil defense fit event of a Communist invasion or takeover, plans a 10-day series of meetings with followers on the West Coast.

Robert B. DePugh said the wildcat organization's only purpose is to promote civil defense at the grass roots and to train civilians in event of war or insurrection.

California Gov. Edmund G. Brown last week called the Minute Men guerrilla bands and estimated they have 2,500 members in California.

DePugh said at his home in Norborne, Mo., he will hold meetings this week in Los Angeles, San Diego, San Francisco, Portland, Seattle, Tucson and Phoenix.

Chimps Hold Rehearsal of Space Flight

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—Five frolicsome chimpanzees, including veteran space traveler Ham, and a rhesus monkey are training here for a pair of important rocket launches.

One of the chimps is scheduled to spin into orbit within two weeks in the last scheduled Project Mercury trial flight before an American astronaut is lifted on an orbital mission.

The monkey, a radio transmitter and biomedical sensors imbedded in his body, is slated for a suborbital trip this week to determine feasibility of using implanted devices in human spacemen.

Ham is the freckle-faced chimp that rode a Redstone rocket 150 miles high on a 15-minute flight last January, blazing the trail for the suborbital space trips of Astronauts Alan B. Shepard Jr. and Virgil I. Grissom.

The orbit assignment is intended to swing the Mercury capsule three times around the world in 4½ hours at 17,400 miles an hour. This is the same course the National Aeronautics and Space Administration plans for the first orbit of a U. S. astronaut.

Ecuador Hit by Revolt of Army

QUITO, Ecuador (AP)—A regiment of engineers rebelled against the Ecuadorian government today in a short time after leftist Vice President Carlos Arosemena was arrested on orders of President Jose Oaia Velasco Ibarra.

Arosemena, who appears to have backing of a majority in Congress, was arrested around midnight. Aides with him also were taken into custody and imprisoned in the federal penitentiary.

They offered no resistance when approached on the street by Gonzalo Jacome, director of national security, and informed they were under arrest.

The Chimborazo regiment of engineers rose as soon as news of the arrest spread. The soldiers who are paying for it.

marched out of their barracks in the southern part of the city with weapons ready.

Three air force planes took off from a base outside the city and flew over the city. It was not clear where they stood in the political fight between the two leaders, but they appeared to be making a reconnaissance.

Gen. Angel Zurita, the armed forces commander, issued a communique promising to maintain law and order and backing Velasco Ibarra in the president's severest test since he assumed office 14 months ago.

Some cars have new names... this name will have a new car!

The name is familiar—the Ford Fairlane 500. The car itself is totally new—so new you'll see nothing else like it this year. It is one of Ford's milestone designs and will be as influential in its way as the first mass-produced car (a Ford Model T), the first popular station wagon (a Ford Wagon), the first four-passenger luxury car (a Ford Thunderbird), the world's most successful compact (a Ford Falcon).

Right between Galaxie and Falcon in size and in price, the 1962 Ford Fairlane 500 is just the right car for just about everybody; you have never been able to buy anything so right before.

Big in room, ride and performance, it is still priced under most compacts. It nurses a nickel as though it never expected to see another. It moves like a rabbit on roller skates.

New unitized body a foot shorter outside... full-size inside. Ford engineers have changed the proportions of the automobile: a completely new unitized body gives you more room inside with less bulk outside. A foot shorter than previous Fairlanes, the new Fairlane 500 is pleasantly parkable, delightfully drivable, easily garageable. At the same time it packs into its neat and tidy 197 inches as much passenger room as you had in some of the biggest Fords ever built.

Twice-a-year maintenance. Service is reduced to a minimum—20,000 miles on many items, twice a year on the rest. You go 30,000 miles between major lubrications, 6,000 miles between oil changes and minor lubrications. You don't have to touch the engine coolant-antifreeze for two years—or 30,000 miles—at a time. Brakes adjust themselves.

All-new economy Eight from world's V-8 leader.

The hand that honed the Thunderbird—and sped the Falcon to all-time Economy Run honors—turned to a new problem here: the world's first economy V-8. Made possible by new Ford foundry methods, the new Challenger V-8 is as strong as iron—and a lot lighter than iron's ever been before. As lively as you'd like... thrifter than you'd expect a V-8 to be... it's a natural powerplant for America's first car you can take and have it car.

For those who want even greater thrills, there's a new Fairlane Six. Its economy would be gratifying in a smaller car. In a car this size it's a downright delight.

Preview America's newest car now. As part of Preview Run U.S.A., new Fairlane 500's are riding the nation's highways and main streets right now. Watch for them. See what thousands have already seen—and raved about. Take a turn at the wheel—and perhaps do a little raving yourself.

We think you'll agree: this all-new Ford is just right for just about everybody. No matter how many new cars you've looked at, you haven't seen anything like this one. It will be at your Ford Dealer's next week. If you miss it now, be sure to see it then.

JUST RIGHT FOR JUST ABOUT EVERYBODY!

Fire Spreads to Pacific Palisades

LOS ANGELES (AP) - Two disastrous fires threatened early today to join and burn oceanward on a 10-mile front that officials said would threaten a whole new community - fashionable Pacific Palisades.

The major multimillion-dollar blaze—the worst in Southern California history—already had destroyed more than 200 costly homes including those of such film stars as Burt Lancaster, Joe E. Brown and Zsa Zsa Gabor. Ex-Vice President Richard M. Nixon was among those who fled the flames Monday.

The larger fire sprawled out of control today like an ugly, flaming crown in the Hollywood hills. Santa Monica Mountains range above swank Bel-Air and Brentwood.

Eating through Topanga Canyon's explosively dry brush during the night, a companion fire that also broke out on Monday moved to within slightly more than a mile of the Bel-Air fire.

The Topanga fire had raged through 4,000 acres, the Bel-Air through 3,200. Only Rustic Canyon, which has a few expensive homes, separated the two.

Officials said the fires probably will join, forming a 10-mile flaming front. If they continue burning southward, all of heavily populated Pacific Palisades, near the ocean, would be in danger, the officials said. The two fires already were only three or four miles from that community.

"We are making full preparations for the worst," said County Fire Chief Keith Klinger.

Men and equipment in large numbers moved into the southern end of the Topanga Canyon holocaust. Twenty-four bombers, 12 for each fire, were loaded for daylight bombing of the flames with a fire-retarding borate solution.

Minor injuries to 10 firemen in the Bel-Air fire were reported.

The Weather Bureau predicted gusty northeast winds, decreasing slowly, in the mountains and below coastal canyons today.

More than 2,000 persons had been evacuated from one of the nation's richest residential areas. Residents leaving the area with armloads of possessions, leading horses, pets and children, suggested refugees fleeing from war.

Wild animals scrambled along Beverly Glen Boulevard. Flames had ravaged their native haunts.

Magnates, movie stars, school children and housewives fled from homes and classrooms to escape the blaze Monday. Fire officials called it the most damaging in Southern California history.

Nixon, whose rented home escaped the flames, said: "I have seen trouble all over the world, but nothing like this."

Some of the movie stars' homes reportedly cost more than $100,000.

The main fire is in rugged, mountainous terrain extending westward to the sea and dividing the San Fernando Valley from Los Angeles and its western suburbs. The sprawling blaze is roughly 10 miles northwest of downtown Los Angeles and three miles northwest of Beverly Hills. Brentwood, Bel-Air and the Hollywood hills are suburban communities.

The nation's interstate highway program has created an unparalleled demand for slag.

East Berlin Entry May Be Changed

By ENDRE MARTON

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Soviets may close off the East Berlin crossing at the American zone any day now and reroute Allied traffic through a new crossing at the British sector, informed sources said today.

The three Western powers have not received intelligence reports about such a closing, the informants added, but they have observed construction material being brought to the vicinity of the checkpoint in East Berlin.

The ambassadorial group which meets at the State Department to draft contingency plans for Allied moves and countermoves in Berlin discussed this possibility last week. The group—consisting of the ambassadors of Britain, France, and Germany with Foy D. Kohler, U. S. assistant secretary of state, presiding—has reached no decision.

Should the Soviets close "Checkpoint Charlie," the Friedrichstrasse crossing where American and Soviet tanks faced each other for about 16 tense hours in October, their chief reason will be to embarrass the United States. But, officials here believe, they also will put the British into an awkward situation.

Each of the three Allied powers has responded differently to the East Germans' demand for identification from Allied personnel entering East Berlin.

The Americans not only refused to comply but sent armed escorts through the gate whenever a U. S. official in civilian clothes drove to East Berlin.

The British showed their identification papers through the windows of their cars.

The French did not comply with the request but made no attempt to force their way into East Berlin.

If a new checkpoint is opened in the British sector, the British will be in charge. The necessity, therefore, to establish a uniform Western policy on how to react to this or any similar Communist demands is more acute than ever.

There are sharp differences of opinion in the Kennedy administration and in the ambassadorial group over what should be done if the crossing is changed, informants said.

Those who demanded last August that the West should prevent by force if necessary the building of the Berlin wall now say that the West should not tolerate another unilateral action by the Soviets.

Others are willing to accept the attitude of the British, who believe that since the West did not act when the wall was erected, there is nothing to be done now but to accept the changed circumstances—at least until they touch on vital interests.

Tot, 4, Rides 32 Miles on Bumper

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—Four-year-old Dennis Lee Hannah just frowns when asked about his 32-mile ride clinging to the rear of a car. The tot came through the ride unscathed.

Relatives were visiting the Hannahs Sunday and when they left Dennis perched on the rear bumper. Mrs. Hannah raced after the car but couldn't catch it.

She summoned police but they were unable to find the car on its route to Wrens, 32 miles away. A motorist in Wrens spotted Dennis and waved down the relatives.

Couple Married, Killed, Same Day

MIAMI, Okla. (AP)—Harry S. Angel, 72, and Mrs. Georgia Dickerson Angel, 73, both of Kansas City, were married Monday night at a motel here.

They walked across the street to a restaurant for dinner. On their way back to the motel, they were hit by a car and killed.

Police said the couple was wearing dark clothing and the driver of the car Robert Lin, 21, Commerce, Okla., didn't see them. He was not held.

Unity Urged at Church Council

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas Council of Churches heard a plea for inter-faith unity at its sixth annual meeting here Monday.

Dr. O. Walter Wagner, executive director of the Metropolitan Church Federation of St. Louis, said worldwide church unity is a necessity in the uncertain world of today.

Wagner, for 25 years a leader in the ecumenical, or church unity, movement, traced the movement in America through the past 50 years. He said it was started by big men in the denominations and in industry.

"We have to live with denominationalism but that is not insurmountable because we have come to the point where we are no longer antagonistic," he said.

He said the movement must reach down to the "people in the pew" before it can "capture the hearts and minds of people around the world."

Wagner said inter-faith harmony could be promoted in Arkansas through committees on inter-church relations, inter-faith dialogues, meetings between professional and church groups, and increased missionary zeal.

The Rev. Kenneth L. Teegarden, executive secretary of the Arkansas Christian Missionary Society, was elected president of the Arkansas Council of Churches.

The council heard a report on an experimental drive-in church in Hot Springs. The Rev. Robert A. Fudge said he had an average of 27 cars at each Sunday non-denominational meeting.

The first recorded baptism in the United States was that of an Indian named Peter in 1540.

The annual snowfall for Arkansas averages slightly more than five and one half inches.

Kennedy and Adenauer in Berlin Talk

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy hopes to reach quick agreement with German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer later this month on issues that the Western powers may negotiate with the Soviet Union in the search for a peaceful solution to the Berlin crisis.

The White House announced Tuesday that Adenauer would visit Washington Nov. 20-21 for talks with the President, on Berlin problems and "other matters of common interest."

If the U. S.-West German summit discussions are successful, they will be followed by efforts of 27 cars at each Sunday non-denominational meeting.
